

LOS ANGELES

presenting John A. Stewart, president of the United States Trust Company of New York; Mr. Wormser of Wormser Bros., New York; Daniel Mahone of Ogdensburg, N. Y., and ex-collector of Customs of the port of New

Mr. Kemp, of the Commercial and Farmers' Bank of Baltimore; Dr. W. H. Wood and Dr. J. A. H. Wood, representing Mr. Pulitzer of the New York World; Mr. Burnet, of the Investment Corporation Company of New York, and Mr. Chandler of Boston.

The committee to consider the opening of the bids, consisting of Messrs. J. M. Starnes, Comptroller Eckels and Mr. Huntington of the loans and currency division had been at work since early morning and at a few minutes after noon announced that they were ready to proceed. It was an interesting crowd that listened to Eckels as he read the names of the bidders and the amounts subscribed for, and it is the names of the bidders and the amounts subscribed for, and it is probable that more millions were represented in Mr. Eckels's audience than were ever before gathered together in the Treasury building. Three or four of the bids carried with them evidence of their being fictitious and they were accordingly omitted from the list, but the long list of bids and to substantial amounts desired by many bidders soon made it apparent that the question was not "Would the loan be oversubscribed?" but "How much would it be?"

The first announcement from Mr. Eckels made it known that bond bids approaching the $400,000,000 mark had been made, with enough unopened to represent another $75,000,000; the same an announcement that the total was the stupendous figure of $684,269,050, which was subsequently reduced by throwing out three bogus bids of $100,000,000, $16,000,000 and $6,000,000. It would be impossible with ordinary telegraphic or typographic facilities to give a complete list of all bids, and

NOTE—THE TIMES is a seven-day paper. The above figures, viz., 120,140 copies, issued by us during the seven days of the past week, would, if apportioned on the basis of a six-day evening paper, give a daily average circulation for each week-day of 20,023 copies.

THE TIMES is the only Los Angeles paper which has regularity in its published sworn statements of circulation, weekly, monthly and yearly, during the past several years. Advertisers have the right to know the NET CIRCULATION of the medium which seeks their business, and this THE TIMES gives them correctly, from time to time.

SUGGESTIONS FOR CALIFORNIA HOMES.

Southern California has many distinctive features which tend toward her rapid upbuilding. The stranger coming hither is attracted at once by the charms of her climate, the prolific nature of her soil, and the great variety of her productions. We say of the atmosphere, "It is distinctively Californian." Nowhere else do we find such marvelous effects of light and shade, such pictures of color and of beauty, such contrasts in nature as we find here, such bold outline of mountain, such charm of valley and plain, or more exquisite transparency of atmosphere, through which, as in a mirror, vast distances gleam and seem to draw near.

In view of all this we should desire to work in harmony with nature. Man's efforts, as regards landscape effects, should be supplementary to those of nature. In home building, and in church building as well, every structure that we erect should be in keeping and in sympathy with the character of its environments. With this accomplished, the civilization of this State would present a marked contrast to that of the other States of the Union, and an attractiveness that would draw others to it by the very charm of difference and the power of original expression.

The race that preceded us well understood this, and the old mission fathers were men of large vision and a clear apprehension of the fitness of things, and the architecture which they wrought was like an added line to a fine poem which held the soul of the whole and imprisoned its meaning. The beautiful hill slope, on which rose the mission towers, with its arches and walls and sloping, red-tiled roof that gleamed amid the emerald of olive and oak, held the eye as it never would have done had it not been crowned with these piles, so in sympathy with the character of the landscape about them. The grand old mountains, suggestive of endurance and permanency, found a type of this in the strength of these massive walls, and the soft, mellow tints of sunlight seemed repeating themselves wherever they faced the sunshine.

These thick walls, impervious to the heat of summer and the cooler air of winter, are peculiarly adapted to this climate, and certainly there is nothing more picturesque than the old mission style of architecture that could be adopted for the home of today.

We are glad to see that they are multiplying with us, and that many of our weather residents have modeled their homes after the mission style.

If we regard the history of the past we shall appreciate the fitness of retaining this element in our architecture. Its comfort and simple elegance also recommend it, and the skilled architect can easily adapt it to the necessities for sunlight and abundant air.

Pasadena has some noble examples of the mission style of architecture, and they are among the most attractive features of that pretty little city. They are built upon some of her splendid eminences, and are quick to attract the admiration of the stranger. "They are so distinctively Californian," or "they seem like a bit of old Spain," are the expressions that we hear, as our newcomers look with delight upon them. They excel in dignity the old, one-story adobe. Two stories in height, they are built with their arches, and with columns supporting the roofs of the broad verandas, and oftentimes the tower is added to give a finishing beauty and grace.

and as we view them we are impressed with the fitness of their relationship to everything about them, and can but regard them as the best form of expression for the wealthy home-builders in our midst.

TODAY'S GOOD-ROADS MEETING.

A meeting is to be held at the Chamber of Commerce, beginning at 2 p. m. today, in which all citizens are, or should be, greatly interested. Reference is made to the good-roads meeting to be held at the instance of Messrs. Irvine and Maude of the State Bureau of Highways. These gentlemen will also confer with the Board of Supervisors, and will offer suggestions as to modes of procedure by which practical results in the way of highway improvement can be secured.

There should be a full attendance of citizens at the meeting today. Messrs. Maude and Irvine are plentifully supplied with facts and figures on the subject of good roads, and are prepared to give the public the benefit of their knowledge on the subject. They will address the assembly, presenting numerous reasons for the scientific improvement of the highways, and pointing out clearly the easiest and most practical methods for accomplishing the desired results. What these gentlemen have to say will undoubtedly be of absorbing interest to all who hear them, and of much value in assisting the good-roads movement.

Although the law which created the State Bureau of Highways gives only advisory powers to these commissioners, they have accomplished much good in the rather circumscribed field assigned them. Before the good-roads movement can take practical shape a definite plan of campaign must be decided upon. It is in the work of mapping out this plan of campaign that the commissioners are engaged. They should have the co-operation of all classes of citizens, for the interests of all are involved in this movement.

There has been no end of talk about good roads, but very little has thus far been accomplished. We can talk till doomsday about good roads without accomplishing anything unless work succeeds discussion. It is time for work to begin in earnest, if this great and vitally important problem is ever to be solved. Messrs. Irvine and Maude, it is expected, will point out the way in which work can be begun and carried forward to a successful issue. At all events, there should be a large turnout at today's meeting.

The Pan-American alliance, which was one of the dreams of that great statesman, James G. Blaine, seems at last to be in a fair way of realization. When it becomes an accomplished fact, the Monroe doctrine will be formally indorsed, and the support of it, pledged by all the nations of the Western Hemisphere, with the possible exception of Chili. The formal assent of these nations will give the Monroe doctrine the binding force of international law, if it has not that force now.

The Detroit Journal rises up and remarks with keen insight that "at the first opportunity Senator Tillman proceeded to give strength to an impression heretofore tentatively held, to-wit: That there are more kinds of wild-striped asses raised in South Carolina than have existed anywhere since old man Waite went out of the business in Colorado." Too true, alas! But the "wild-striped asses" are not all raised in South Carolina, by any means.

The Tribune Almanac and Political Register for 1896 is an unusually good edition of that excellent handbook. It contains 305 pages of closely-printed statistical and general matter, and covers many new subjects not usually treated of in books of its kind. It is published by the Tribune Association of New York, and Henry E. Rhodes is the editor.

The Louisiana Democratic convention declined to say a word on the money question. Perhaps the "sense" of the meeting was that silence, under existing circumstances, is golden.

The Cleveland Leader predicts that Maj. McKinley will be nominated at the St. Louis convention on the first ballot. Indications point more and more strongly to such a result.

Those South and Central American States should cease their petty quarrels among themselves if they would be fit associates and allies of the United States of America.

William McKinley is a poor man, so far as worldly possessions are concerned, but he is rich in the esteem of his countrymen.

WORK CAME TOO LATE.

RICHARD KLATTKKE KILLS HIS FAMILY OF SIX.

The Husband and Father Then Ends His Wretchedness—The Seven Dead Bodies Found by a Prospective Employer.

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—The entire family of six, father, mother, wife and three children, were murdered last night by Richard Klattke, a Lakeview carpenter, who completed the work by killing himself. The dead are:

RICHARD KLATTKKE, carpenter, 38 years old.
KATE KLATTKKE, his wife.
JOHN KLATTKKE, his father, aged 73.

MINA WILHELMINS, mother-in-law, aged 71.
MINA KLATTKKE, daughter, aged 9.
ANNA KLATTKKE, daughter, aged 8.
EMMA KLATTKKE, daughter, aged 7.

The members of the Klattke family were found dead early this morning in their little cottage at No. 207 Bersaker avenue, the black station on the Northwestern Railroad, at Matthew Brown, a saloonkeeper, who called to secure the services of a carpenter. Each of the seven corpses had a bullet wound in the back, and the death of all was evidently instantaneous.

Beside the body of Richard Klattke lay a revolver and empty cartridge shells were scattered about the room. There were no indications of a struggle on the part of any of the victims, a heavy odor, which appeared to be that of chloroform, pervaded the house. From this it was surmised that Klattke first chloroformed the entire family, and had then taken deliberate aim and put a bullet into each of the bodies. Everything pointed to a deliberately planned murder by the head of the family, and the desire to place himself and them beyond any further earthly troubles.

Klattke was despondent. His family was cold and hungry. Since Christmas he had been out of work, and his troubles just as relief was in sight. This morning his next-door neighbor, Adolph Schmidt, called at the cottage with the joyful news that he had found a job for Klattke. At the same time Matt Schmidt called, on the same errand. Close examination of the remains showed that one of the victims alone had any warning of her fate. This was Mrs. Klattke, wife of the murderer. She it appeared, struggled with her husband before he shot her, and her hands were scratched and her clothing torn. She evidently had been overpowered and thrown on the floor by the murderer. Her little seven-year-old daughter Emma was found by the body of her mother.

On a chair lay a whetstone and two screws, each of which had been sharpened to the point of a needle. It was evident that Klattke had prepared for a possible failure of his revolver and had arranged for a sure substitute if needed.

Later, the police theory as to the use of chloroform is not borne out by Dr. Friend, who was called in by the neighbors. The doctor called, on his arrival, to notice the odor of the drug. A search was made for bottles which might have contained chloroform, but none were found. On the floor, traces of clothes which might have been saturated with it. If a soporific was used, it was probably administered in food, and it was probably the morphine was probably the agent selected.

It turns out that Klattke, the murderer, was an anarchist. He had been drinking prior to the commission of his wholesale crime. The house wherein the tragedy occurred contained a number of anarchist lithographs.

A cablegram from Rome says that Rev. father Hoban has been appointed bishop of Sicily.

The "Retaliatory Insurance Bill" passed by the New York House Tuesday was today reported by the Senate Committee on Finance. The bill provides for the whole by an overwhelming vote.

A dispatch from Argyle, N. Y., says that Thomas Driscoll, the "Hermit of Argyle," is dead at the Resolander Home for aged men, aged 84 years. He was born in Ireland, and came to America when 30 years old. He lived in seclusion for 40 years, and was the last of a reclusive race.

Consideration of the Southern Pacific repeal bill was postponed in the Senate, Ky., before the Senate Judiciary Committee. No representatives of the road have yet filed notice to appear before the committee.

Chairman Goebel says the bill will be reported favorably to the Senate.

A correspondent from Gen. Alfaro, President of Ecuador, has formed a new cabinet, as follows: Minister of War, General Alfaro; Minister of Finance, General Wither; Minister of Interior, General Carlos; Minister of Justice, General Juan Jose Morales.

A Valparaiso (Chile) dispatch says that the prize in the national credit, which was highly influenced by the facility with which a sum of $100,000 was loaned to the government by the Rothschilds of London, has received a lamentable fall. It has been found that the loan will cost Chilean taxpayers a German syndicate offered to lend the government more than $5,000,000 at 4 per cent, free of all charges.

The political difficulties caused by the ministerial crisis at Managua, Nicaragua, were arranged by the appointment of a new cabinet. Francisco J. de la Cruz, Minister of the Interior and Foreign Affairs, is the new Minister of Finance. Peace is thus secured. A treaty between Germany and Nicaragua has been signed by Minister von Bergh and the President, containing a most-favored nation clause.

A meeting of striking machinists, boiler-makers and blacksmiths of the Mexican International Brotherhood resulted in the election of a new committee, and they have been joined by the carpenters. The union of these three trades all along the line. No effort has been made to replace the strike of the three hundred men out at Eagle Pass.

Justin McCarthy has addressed a letter to the secretary of the Irish Land League, saying reasons for giving up the leadership are purely personal and due to his failing health and greater attention to his wife and family. He is still full of confidence in the success of his cause. He sees hopeful indications that the factions of the party will soon be united.

A dispatch from Rome says that Premier Crispi will remain in power, whatever may happen. King Umberto has been informed of the situation, and has agreed to grant a general amnesty in view of the numerical superiority of King Umberto's forces. The rumor that the king had postponed a court ball on account of the receipt of the bad news from Africa is unfounded. King Umberto is said to be the cause of the attempted suicide. In his pockets were found letters addressed to a foreign ambassador his firm conviction of the ultimate success of the Italian arms. From this it is thought that the king was contemplating in St. Louis, where he was stopping the last part of January.

A schooner loaded with recruits has arrived at Panama from interior ports. The men are intended to swell the forces at Panama diminished by death and disease. More than one hundred men are at present in the hospital. Dr. Pablo Arosemena, a noted lawyer, has been taken to the hospital. ALL ALONG THE LINE.

Department Three of the Superior Court would make money by advertising its present attraction. A comedy is going on up there which can give any theater nine points and then beat the stuffing out of it.

The experts who have been working on the books for the city are breathing easier now that their claims have been allowed by the Board of Supervisors, but it is strongly impressed on all other cities in the county that the grand jury can't go and play in their yards.

A gang of vicious and drunken tramps near Santa Ana got into a fight yesterday and with a stolen hatchet proceeded to hack each other to pieces. Unfortunately a Santa Ana constable hove in upon the fellows before the good work of extermination was entirely finished.

Pasadena dairymen have had a shaking up by the Board of Health, and as a result of this action the dairymen are cleaning up, the bovines are receiving better treatment, and the milk supplied to consumers is of better quality. Even a milkman has respect for the strong arm of the law.

A mountain in the San Jacinto range is reported to be giving out strange noises and volumes of smoke. This is important if true, as an active volcano would form an interesting addition to the already numerous freaks of nature in Southern California. The heat from it might also help to solve the problem of how to protect oranges from frost.

Southern Californians will watch with interest every sign pointing to the establishment of direct railroad communication with Utah. Although the public actions of people believed to be interested in such a project during the past month are of an indefinite character, still there is room for the belief that the matter is being seriously considered by men of determination and financial responsibility.

The new electric light company at San Bernardino has filed a bond which obligates it to be prepared to light the city on and after March 1. Meantime the old company which, it is alleged, has operated without a franchise, has been ordered to remove its poles from the street corners. Light will break through the darkness at San Bernardino by and by.

Judging by the present crop of oranges and lemons, San Diego county will ship two years from now fully 1000 carloads of these fruits. The large areas of frostless lemon and orange land in that county make it one of the most promising fruit sections in Southern California. The constant increase of the fruit acreage throughout that county is a sure sign of the abundant faith of fruit-growers in the possibility of the soil and climate.

The Board of Health has recommended that the pay of the city garbage contractors be withheld until they perform their work more satisfactorily. This will please the people who receive a visit from the garbage collector only about once a month, and who justly complain of the inefficiency of the service rendered. The contractors are not in the garbage business for their health, but that is no reason why they should draw pay for work they do not perform.

The growth of California wines in public favor has been rapid of late years. People no longer clamor for imported wines as of yore. A Los Angeles restaurant says that eight years ago his patrons would not touch a drop of California wine. They looked upon it with scorn and contempt. But now the home product is supplanting the imported article. This restaurant now serves from ten to twelve gallons or about 100 bottles of California wine every day. Frank Wiggins reports that before the Atlanta Cotton Exposition nobody in Georgia knew there was such a thing as California wine. Since the Golden State's display began to get in its work, two whole carloads of California wines have been shipped to Atlanta.

Police Court Notes.
Judge Morrison disposed of the following cases yesterday: B. D. Thomas, disturbing the peace at the Orpheum Theater, was fined $5. He paid the amount and departed. J. D. Reilham came next, charged with misdemeanor. Two cases are against Reilham, the last one, which was for breaking down a fence, being continued until February 11. Louise Smeets, who attempted to slay ex-Detective Bosqui, was up for disturbing the peace. Her case was fixed at $25 and the case will come up on February 11. The case of M. C. Coberly for disturbing the peace will be tried by Judge Burns on February 6. Harry Emmings, the negro collector of razors and barbers' implements, was charged with burglary and held in bail of $5000, in default of which he was taken back to jail. John O'Rourke, charged with petty larceny, will come up for trial on February 4. For the last three days the police business has been duller than can be remembered in the annals of the station. The officers find everybody disposed to be orderly, and a steady improvement in the criminal classes is noted.

RAILROAD RECORD.

THE OJAI ROAD.

THE SURVEY COMPLETED AND WORK WILL SOON BEGIN.

A New Line Projected Into Texas by Hetty Green—Meeting Competition in Mardi Gras Route—Southern Pacific to Duarte.

An Associated Press dispatch from Ventura says the surveying party sent by the Southern Pacific Railway to meet the surveyors at work on the proposed Ojai Valley Railroad and check up their work at the junction of the Ojai Valley road and the Southern Pacific road in this city, completed their work and left for Los Olivos tonight. Capt. Merrill of the Frisco and another before leaving he said that the survey had been completed and that work on the grading would begin inside of thirty days.

A NEW LINE.
ST. LOUIS (Mo.), Feb. 5.—The Republic this morning says that a new line from St. Louis to the Southwest is likely to be the result of the contemplated separation of the Frisco from the Santa Fe system.

H. R. Green, president of the Texas Midland, and son of the well-known Hetty Green, was in the city yesterday and had a conference with Capt. Merrill of the Frisco and other prominent railroad men. He said to the Frisco people that in the event of the separation of that road from the Santa Fe system, he was prepared to use his own money and his mother's in the construction of certain branches and auxiliary lines, which would give the Santa Fe a route many miles shorter than that which it now enjoys. From St. Louis to Paris, Tex., the Frisco runs in a line which is more direct than any other route. From Paris to Greenville there is a gap that President Green proposes to fill. From Greenville to El Paso the Texas Midland is already in operation, and between El Paso and Waco there is also a gap which President Green is ready to build upon receipt of notice that the Frisco will begin to operate its road upon an independent basis.

To Dallas from Quinlan, a point on the Texas Midland, there is only an unfilled space of something like sixty-two miles, and this will be built by Mr. Green and the people whom he represents. Between Dallas and Fort Worth there is only a little gap to be filled to make the new line complete.

WILL MEET COMPETITION.
CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—Authority has been granted the Rock Island by Chairman Caldwell to meet the competition of the Denver and Gulf road in making a rate of one fare for the round trip between Colorado common points and New Orleans for Mardi Gras.

COMING BY BOAT.
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—The passengers on the steamer Eureka for Los Angeles are: A. Stevens, E. Manning and five others.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC TO DUARTE.
The Southern Pacific Company has completed its extension from Monrovia to Duarte, and regular trains were run last Monday. Four trains each way are being operated, giving the same service as to Monrovia.

DISCHARGED 300 MEN.
TOPEKA (Kan.), Feb. 5.—The Santa Fe today, pursuing its policy of retrenchment, discharged 300 men employed in its shops here. Of these 150 were employed in the repair shops.

A CUT IN WAGES.
KANSAS CITY (Mo.), Feb. 5.—The heads of the various departments in the Santa Fe shops here received notice today of a cut of 10 per cent. in their wages. So far as known, no men are to be dismissed from the shops.

CORRAL HOLLOW RIGHTS.
STOCKTON, Feb. 5.—The condemnation suit brought by the Alameda and San Joaquin Railroad company against Crocker and Dillon to obtain the only remaining right-of-way to the coal mines in Corral Hollow, was dismissed this morning, an amicable settlement of the differences having been reached. The work on the road will now be rushed to completion and in a few weeks the track will be laid to the mines.

PADEREWSKI ARRIVED.
Travels in a Private Car with His Suite.

The idol of the musical world, the great Polish pianist, Paderewski, arrived in his private car last evening, at the Arcade station, where he remained over night, leaving for San Diego this morning. At San Antonio, the last place at which he played, he was greeted by a splendid house, and another by his audience is already assured at San Diego.

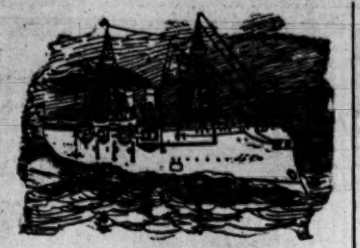

Paderewski, as he left his car last evening, accompanied by his managers, and saw the deputation of press representatives lying in wait for him, was apparently possessed with a desire to flee, but finally wheeled about and permitted himself to be introduced, greeting each with a cordial handshake. He was very weary with his long trip, but chatted pleasantly for a few minutes. His son, he said, he had left in Paris, as the cramped quarters and the long trip were too much for him.

Paderewski is charming in his manners, and when conversing, his face lights up and a genial smile plays about his mouth. He is of medium height and very slender build; his hair, which has been greatly exaggerated, is but slightly longer than men ordinarily wear it, is a fluffy mass of a rich auburn shade. His private secretary, who was discovered on a trip through the private car, "Hasiemers," declared that all his peculiarities had been extremely exaggerated and that he does not consume the enormous number of cigarettes he is said to. His car is very elegantly appointed and is stocked with everything to make life comfortable on a long journey. In the compartment nearest the front end of the car was a large leather trunk, marked "J. P." and an upright piano, upon which Paderewski plays in quiet hours, and at rare intervals while the train is in motion. The piano manufacturers are said to pay him $150,000 a year, to use only their pianos, and the young man who poses as private secretary is really their agent, who goes along to see that the contract is time upon the road, one in advance of the other, and Paderewski plays only upon these. He takes with him in his managers, the private secretary, a butler and a valet.

The great pianist will arrive from San Diego Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock, and will play that evening and Saturday afternoon at the Los Angeles Theater.

SCROFULA
Miss Della Stevens, of Boston, Mass., writes: "I have always suffered from hereditary Scrofula, for which I tried various remedies, and many celebrated physicians, but none relieved me. After taking a bottle of S.S.S. I am now well, and I am very grateful to you for having saved me from a life of suffering. I shall take pleasure in speaking only words of praise for S.S.S. in all my circles, and in recommending it to all." Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free to any address.

From Birth
to death man is but organized dust supported by the energies of fuel-foods, of which (barring its bad taste) Cod-liver Oil is, by all odds, the best." So says a famous English physician.

In Scott's Emulsion, the bad taste of the Cod-liver Oil is completely overcome, making it the perfect food and remedy in consumption, anemia, and all forms of wasting complaints. It digests and agrees where other foods repel. No other emulsion is "the same," none "just as good."

gation, found a man lying on the landing of the stairs, without a rag of clothing on.

The man's clothes being near by, the man, who was a well-known physician, partially dressed him and took him to his own room, when he discovered that Davidson was suffering from cocaine poisoning.

Davidson, who is staying here on business, explained that he had been on the eve of departing for his home in Philadelphia, when a tooth started aching. He went to a dentist and had the offending molar removed, the operator giving him cocaine to deaden the pain.

After this he does not remember much except wandering about a little, and has no recollection of having discovered that he was suffering from cocaine poisoning.

He however well remembers imagining that he was bathing at Coronado Beach. It is fortunate for Davidson that he fell into such kindly hands, for he had on his person $400 in cash, besides numerous checks for large amounts, and a heavy gold watch and chain.

By noon yesterday he was sufficiently recovered to take the train for the East.

Richardson, president; G. W. Brobeck, vice-president; H. H. Youngken, secretary, and the First National Bank, treasurer.

A Fire Department Driver Allowed to Re-sign—Interesting Figures from the City Auditor's Report—Other Matters.

The Fire Commissioners at their regular meeting yesterday investigated charges against an employee of the department. The Board of Health met to consider the resignation of a driver from the fire department. The City Auditor's report shows some interesting figures.

At the Courthouse, another sensation was sprung in the Holliday case, which will not be non-suited, and is likely to produce some startling developments. The claims of the experts employed by the grand jury to investigate the city books, were allowed by the Board of Supervisors. The jewel case of Lyons vs. Anderson is on trial before Judge Shaw for the rape of Julia Weiss.

AT THE CITY HALL.

FIRE COMMISSIONERS.

Willoughby's Resignation Accepted and Two Promotions Made.
The Fire Commissioners met in the Mayor's office at 10 a. m. yesterday. Since Mayor Rader was absent, Commissioner Kuehn occupied the chair. Meyberg Bros.' petition to erect and operate a steam boiler and engine in the rear of the Bell building on Main street near Second was ordered granted in accordance with the recommendation of the Chief.

Frank P. Willoughby tendered his resignation as a driver in the fire department. There was an animated discussion over the matter. Chief Moore had previously made charges of neglect against the driver and Mr. Willoughby took this means of getting out of the difficulty. Mr. Vetter thought a man who had neglected his duty should not be allowed to leave the department on an equal footing with the man who had always been faithful. But Mr. Kuehn argued that if Mr. Willoughby were dropped it would ruin his chances of getting a place as fireman in some other city. So the matter ended in a motion by Mr. Vetter that in connection with the charges preferred by Chief Moore Mr. Willoughby's resignation be accepted.

The report of City Electrician Ira J. Francis on work done from January 22 to February 5, was ordered filed. Chief Moore presented a number of requisitions, approved by the former board, which had never been drawn. The commission ordered them cancelled and returned to the City Clerk. The owners of property in the M. L. Wicks subdivision of the Kiefer tract presented a communication to the board declaring their willingness to have F. W. Cole run a blacksmith business on the northeast corner of lot 12 of the Kiefer tract.

The application of F. L. Morgan for a place as engineer, and the application of W. Elwin & Co. for permission to erect and operate a steam boiler and engine at No. 234 East Fourth street, were referred to the Chief.

A number of requisitions and bills were approved.

George H. O'Donnell was promoted to driver of the hook and ladder truck, vice Willoughby, resigned. Mr. O'Donnell was first employed as fireman and then appointed permanent fireman by Chief Moore, and attached to Chemical Company No. 1. To make the record clear, this appointment was confirmed before the commission voted the promotion. Thomas L. Gentry, chairman of Engineering Co. 1, was appointed fireman and assigned to Chemical Co. No. 1.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

Garbage Contractors Hauled Over the Coals.
The Board of Health met in the Mayor's office at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. All the members were present.

Different members of the Board called attention to the fact that garbage had not been removed in certain parts of the city, notably the Bonnie Brae tract, for periods of from three to five weeks; also that the garbage contractors had not cleaned up the dumps and that garbage was simply dumped instead of being cremated. A motion was carried that the Board recommend to the Mayor and Council that they pay all demands for the removal of garbage be withheld until garbage is removed and the dumps cleared to the satisfaction of the Health Officer.

A license to practice midwifery was granted to Mrs. Wilhelm D. King. The smallpox question was informally discussed. It was reported that the case at University, which is outside the jurisdiction of the Board, was properly quarantined, and that there was no danger of infection from that source. It was also reported that the State Board of Health had established a proper quarantine against the smallpox prevalent in certain Arizona mining camps, and that there was little danger of the infection being brought to Los Angeles from that Territory.

The meeting day of the Board was changed from the first Wednesday to the second Wednesday in each month, at 1 o'clock a. m. The Board then adjourned to meet next Wednesday.

CITY HALL NOTES.

The Council will meet in special session at 10 o'clock this morning. President Teed of the City Council has appointed Councilman George Stockwell to act as chairman of the committee which is to represent the city government at the Phoenix carnival. Mr. Stockwell will select the other members of the committee.

Councilman Mathews has passed the last two days in inspecting the new schoolhouses. He says the buildings are a revelation to him, and thinks the city will be proud of the structures. In his opinion the city never expended money more wisely and got better results than in the building of these houses.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

THE COURTS.

Renewed Sensations in the Famous Holliday Case.

The Holliday damage suit seems to be inexhaustible in the matter of sensation. For the entire family connection has now jumped in, and part of it, at least, seems bent upon making a holy show of itself. Mrs. Mary Holliday, nee Thurman, started the ball to rolling yesterday morning during the progress of a few remarks by Gen. Jones, preparatory to the culmination of the argument over the admission of testimony from the trial which took place in the Justice's Court.

It was before the jury had taken its place, and all was quiet and decorous as usual, when Gen. Jones' speech was suddenly interrupted by Mrs. Holliday, who rose and walked somewhat unsteadily up before the Judge. The spectators who were nearest to her thought that she had been indulging in a few extra glasses of her favorite champagne, and that she had tried to stop her, but in vain. Gen. Jones stopped abruptly, and everyone looked on in amazement, while she made the following extraordinary request:

"Judge, I want to be allowed to put in my statement in my own way." Judge York nearly fell off the bench, but his never-failing suavity did not desert him, and he replied, with grave courtesy:

"Madam, your evidence will be considered when the time comes for calling you as a witness."

"I know," persisted Mrs. Holliday, "but I want to know if I can be privileged to tell my side of the story narratively, as I did in Justice Young's court. I don't want to be bothered with questions and I don't want to be cross-examined."

"Your evidence will be taken in the regular way," said Judge York, "I can grant no special privileges to any witness, and I cannot prejudice this affair in any manner whatever."

The court spoke with such decisive emphasis that Mrs. Holliday subsided, and the slight disturbance quieted down before the jury came in.

The testimony in the former trial having been admitted, Gen. Jones proceeded to read the most important parts to Mrs. Fannie Holliday, who returned the stand, that she might have an opportunity of contradicting them if she saw fit. A little ripple of amusement ran through the room as the lawyer read the portion of Edward Holliday's testimony where he modestly admitted that he really thought his sister-in-law was infatuated with him, and that the cause of her violent attack upon his wife's property. When asked if this were the case, there was the clash of steel in Mrs. Fannie's flute-like tones as she answered with a most emphatic negative.

She denied with scorn, all the more biting because it was so quiet, that she had ever thrown her arms around Mr. Holliday's neck, or had tried in any way to thrust her affection upon him, and so make trouble between him and his wife. She had never flown into their room like a whirlwind, and attempted to interfere with the house-keeping in any way, except to look over the butcher-book and tell Mrs. Holliday that she and the boy could do with less food, when she heard her complaining that she was tired of supporting the Hollidays.

Mrs. Holliday, did you ever have criminal relations with Edward F. Holliday?" It was like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky, and was followed by a brief pause in the courtroom. The witness straightened up, and her eyes flashed, but a significant gesture from Gen. Jones prevented her from replying, as he sprang to his feet with an indignant objection to the insulting question.

tion by the plaintiff that any such relations existed between Holliday and herself.

The atmosphere of the courtroom was decidedly electric, and everybody was waiting breathlessly to see what was coming next, when Judge York succeeded in allaying the storm by sustaining the objection and quenching the attorneys.

During this exciting scene, Mrs. Mary Holliday's eyes were fixed upon her sister-in-law with a look of vindictive satisfaction, while Edward Holliday laughed excitedly. Mrs. Fannie, as tense as a tigress ready to spring, but she gallantly preserved her composure, and was soon excused, the plaintiff resting after keeping one witness on the stand for two days and a half.

The court then adjourned to allow the defendant time to prepare a motion for a non-suit. The argument for and against the motion occupied the entire afternoon, and the only sensation was caused by Edward Holliday and his wife, who showed strong evidences of having calmed their excited nerves with much liquid refreshment during the noon recess. Holliday sat on a stool up at all in his usual place, but hung around the lobby until Mr. Hunsaker went out and had a brief interview with him, after which he disappeared, preserving his balance with some difficulty.

Mrs. Holliday was pale and somewhat wild-eyed, and that of speech. Her bonnet was tilted rather askew, and the "cheek plumpers" which artfully attempt to give her face a youthful roundness, were shifted slightly out of position as her head wobbled somewhat loosely upon its fastenings. She manifested a great fondness for Mr. Hunsaker, who she intimated had interrupted several times by loud whispers of "Mishter Hunsaker," and sundry clutches at that gentleman's coat-tail, as he passed and repassed her.

At last, patience ceased to be a virtue, and the gallant attorney stowed Mrs. Holliday and her pretty little jag away in a carriage and sent them home together.

The argument then proceeded without further interruption, the defense making the motion for a non-suit on the ground that the plaintiff had failed utterly to prove either malicious prosecution or the want of probable cause, and that the imprisonment had been justifiable. Both positions were vigorously combated by the attorneys for the plaintiff, but Judge York put an end to any extended arguments on the first counts, by at once denying the motion for a non-suit on those grounds. The other points were argued at length and taken under advisement, and the defense will begin today.

BRODERSON ON TRIAL.

The Dead Woman's Statement Read in Court.

Attorney A. C. Broderon was placed on trial yesterday before Judge Shaw, for the rape of Julia Weiss, the Swedish woman who afterward committed suicide by taking chloroform. The death of the young girl, who had given an added impetus to the prosecution, which is being vigorously pushed by Assistant District Attorney Williams, who is resolved on inflicting condign punishment upon the man who is charged with causing the ruin and, incidentally, the death of Julia Weiss. The attorney for the defense is Ben Goodrich, Esq.

After the jury was impaneled, the testimony for the prosecution was commenced, the first to be put in being the statement of Julia Weiss, the reading of which consumed a good deal of time. Mrs. Lena Weiss was then examined, and gave the details of what her sister had told her about the assault made upon her by Broderon. The full particulars of the story were published both at the time of the occurrence, and when the preliminary examination took place. The testimony given yesterday contained in substance merely a repetition of the facts already known.

The prosecution was still putting in testimony when the court adjourned, and the case will be resumed today.

NEW SUITS.

D. A. Cole and J. E. Moody petitioned yesterday to have the will of Rush V. Bridge admitted to probate. The property is valued at $5000.

The trustees of Boyle Heights Presbyterian Church have applied for an order of the court permitting them to mortgage real estate in order to raise $3000 for necessary improvements. Samuel H. Neighbors yesterday filed a petition for letters of administration of the estate of Martha C. Allen. The property is valued at $1500.

Charlotte E. Standish applied for a divorce from Benjamin F. Sanders on the ground of cruel treatment. Eliza J. Keefe has begun suit against B. A. Strohm, at law to recover $805 and interest on a note and mortgage.

M. H. French has filed a suit against Workman Bros. & Strohm, at law to foreclose a lien for street work done in Santa Monica.

COURT NOTES.

In the matter of Ingham vs. Weid, it was ordered by Judge Shaw that $2500 be fixed as the amount to cover the liability of the sureties for use and occupation, waste and deficiency.

William McQuinn, a runaway friend, was yesterday committed to Highland by Judge Clark.

L. J. Laird and J. F. Lambert were arraigned before Judge Clark on the charge of burglary, and both pleaded not guilty.

CITY EXPERTS PAID.

But the Line is Drawn at Los Angeles.

The District Attorney yesterday gave his opinion to the effect that, as soon as irregularity was suspected in the administration of municipal affairs, the experts employed by the grand jury to investigate the city books, might be paid by the county. This liberality stops, however, with Los Angeles, Pomona and Pasadena have already sent in to have their city books experted by the employes of the grand jury, but the Board of Supervisors, acting upon the advice of the District Attorney, say, "Nay, nay." They have allowed the present burst of claims as being part of the work cut out for the grand jury, but the other cities must employ their own experts if they want their books verified.

HARRY JOHNSTON SUE.

By a Negro Whose Cattle He Had Confiscated.

Justice Young's court was dusky yesterday with the large contingent from the colored population of Los Angeles, which had gathered to hear the trial of the action brought by a negro bearing the sounding name of Squire Wilkinson, against Constable J. Harry Johnston, to replevin some cattle attached to satisfy a judgment.

This suit grew out of two others, both brought against D. and N. Wilkinson, brothers of the present plaintiff, by a Chinaman named Lue Gwan. The negroes had driven the cattle across the Chinaman's vegetable garden, and when he came out to remonstrate, the Wilkinsons fell upon him and grievously battered him. A complaint was issued against them for battery, and they were tried and discharged. Lue Gwan then brought a civil action for trespass.

THIRTY YEARS DEAF.

But Now Hears, is the Verdict of Mrs. E. V. Robinson of Santa Barbara.

Completely Cured by Two Magnetic Treatments—Her Hearing Perfectly Restored by the Boy Wizard Now at the Magnetic Institute, Corner Third and Broadway.

Day after day, month after month and year after year the Boy Wizard continues before the public the Pacific Coast performing deeds of mercy and charity by curing the deaf, the blind, the lame, the halt and all character of so-called incurable diseases with unabated success. His methods have withstood the assaults of the medical profession during all this time and against a tidal wave of scoffing, ridicule and malice he has won the confidence of the public and the gratitude of the afflicted.

His assailants, chafing under failure to cope with chronic diseases which have been a continuous source of revenue to their coffers, and seeing this visible means of support endangered by the presence of the Boy Wizard in their midst, unceasingly hurl all manner of epithets at his devoted head. But, as impregnable as Gibraltar before a storming cavalcade, he stands the crowning feat of the entire medical world, acknowledged and recognized as the greatest magnetic the world has ever produced.

The following affidavit from Mrs. E. V. Robinson, an old and respected resident of Santa Barbara, is submitted in corroboration of the claims of the Boy Wizard that he can and does permanently cure the most stubborn chronic infirmities of long standing.

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 25, 1896.
I, Mrs. E. V. Robinson, reside in this city and am well known here, and belong to the Christian Church. I have been deaf for over thirty years, and have suffered great inconvenience from this affliction. I was treated January 13, 1896, and on two other occasions, by the Boy Wizard, and after the second treatment completely recovered my hearing. I can now hear a whisper three feet away and a watch ticking in my hand by every distinctly. I would not state an untruth for any consideration. Many neighbors and friends have called upon me and have wondered at the marvelous results obtained by treatment in so short a time in the hands of the Boy Wizard.

DEATH TO FRUIT PESTS.

To Make the Orchard pay you must spray, winter and summer, with Prof. Brown's Insect Exterminator, the only insecticide known that will kill all insect life without injury to Tree, Fruit or Foliage.

Endorsed by the State Board of Horticulture of California, Oregon and Washington. Used by many nurserymen and orchardists. My winter wash is the only solution that will kill the woolly aphis (use only while the foliage is dry). My summer wash is a sure destroyer of the codling moth eggs, and all insects except woolly aphis (use just after blossoms fall off). My hopewash kills all insects that infest vines, vegetables or plants.

Knowing I have a sure remedy, some unprincipled parties are now selling imitations. Therefore, to discourage all such parties, I have concluded (for a short time only) to reduce the price of the three formulas to $2.50 by mail to any address. Forms copyrighted January 14, 1890. P. OFFICE OF THE TIMES.

Los Angeles, Feb. 5, 1896.

BIDS FOR BONDS. Today's

dispatches from Washington show that the government loan of $100,000,000, 4 per cent., thirty-year bonds, has been covered more than four times, possibly five times. While this is gratifying news, it is nothing more than what has been expected. The numbered about five thousand in all,

and they ranged all the way from par to 119 and a fraction. The statement is made, however, and what is considered good authority, that the government will not accept any bids below 111. The heaviest bids came from two bidders, one headed by J.

Pierpont Morgan, for $100,000,000, which is the full amount of the loan;

the other one headed by the United States Trust Company of New York for $75,000,000.

As it is within the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury to make such appropriation of the amounts bid for as he deems in the best interests of the government, it is impossible to say what the government will accept of their bid applicants will receive. It is to be hoped, however, that the individual bidders and bidders for small amounts will be given the preference.

COMMERCIAL.

THE WAY IT WORKS.

The London Daily Financial News in an article on the wool tariff of the United States, says it has been the means of increasing the sale of colonial wool from 40,000 bales in 1894 to 200-000 bales in 1895. Henry Clews, the

New York banker, says that the wool imported from Asia last year, says: "The $31,000,000 we have paid to Asia for wool during the year

1895 is $31,000,000 more than we have paid to the rest of the world for wool of the same quality. If we had paid that gold to Tennessee, Ohio and California, and we would have been better off—it would have been here.

We are not politicians and we are not business men, and when the expenses of the government in four years are $400,000,000 more than our receipts, we are not going to pay gold to pay the balance."

CHICAGO LOSING TRADE.

Chicago is losing its trade with Kansas,

Nebraska and other Western States.

The Chicago Tribune has been making expressions of surprise and regret that so insignificant a city as Chicago should be so much of a competitor of the coast cities. It says that the large movement of corn during the past few months from Chicago to the coast has demonstrated that deep water is all that is necessary to develop this business, and as a result, the movement of the grain to the West has realized from 3 to 5 cents per bushel more for their corn than they would have done had it been shipped via Chicago. The Chicago Tribune is not alone in its opinion. The Atlantic seaboard is paying a "through freight of 35 cents per hundred against the coast cities, and the difference of 15 cents per hundred, equal to 8.40 cents per bushel, is left in greater part in the hands of the Chicago shipper.

In the mean time, Chicago refuses to allow its business to be used for the benefit of the coast cities, and it is to be hoped that the coast cities will be able to do so in a few days.

DAIRYMEN CLEANING UP.

Salary Effect of the Health

Board's Action.

The committee appointed to investigate the condition of the Pasadena dairies, has made its report to the president of the Humane Society. The document mentions the fact that nine dairies, containing ninety cows, were inspected; that all were more or less uncleanly on account of the bad drainage, and that the dairies were in an extremely unsanitary condition. The recommendation is made that higher salaries should be selected for them. The report relates overcrowding, lack of shelter, and filthy condition of the yards. Since the report was made, it is said, the dairymen have been making strenuous efforts to clean up, and with reference to one of these dairies,

the Health Officer sends the following report:

"To Pasadena Correspondent of The Times: 'Realizing the fact that an article which appeared in the Pasadena column of the Times a few days ago,

in which reference was made to the objectionable condition of a dairy near Yolo, I have been very anxious to seriously influence the owner's business. I now take pleasure in making this public statement that I have made a thorough inspection of said dairy and find all cause of complaint removed,

and report that its condition at the present time is all that can be reasonably expected."

"FRANCIS F. ROWLAND,

Health Officer."

It is the intention of the committee appointed by the Humane Society to see to it that their recommendations are carried out, and that the community is protected against the sale of milk, and that the cows receive proper protection and shelter.

At 6 p.m. yesterday a woman attempting to get off an electric car near Temple street fell and hurt her shoulder. The injury was not in any way serious as she boarded another car and left shortly afterward.

The Thalia school was closed all day yesterday, but not because its license had been revoked. An attachment for $100 had been placed against the saloon by M. Levy Co., wholesale liquor dealers, and other creditors are watching their chance to secure themselves.

THE MOUNTAIN FORESTS.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL URGES THEIR PRESERVATION.

The Aid of Congressional Representatives Asked—Additions to the Exhibit of California Antiquities—More Fruit Arrived.

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday adopted resolutions against the rumored attempt to abolish the San Gabriel forest reserve, that the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is informed that a movement is on foot to abolish the San Gabriel forest reserve; and the preservation of the San Gabriel forest reserve is of the greatest importance to all of Southern California, in that the permanency of our water supply is largely dependent upon the preservation thereof in its present form; now, therefore it was resolved that the chamber views with alarm any movement to curtail or abolish said forest reserve; and that our representatives in Congress be urged to zealously guard the said forest reserve, and, if anything, strengthen the hands of the United States officers so as to more carefully and successfully preserve the same. It was also resolved that a copy of the resolutions be transmitted by the secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to the representatives of the State of California in Congress, with the urgent request of said chamber that they give their united efforts toward preserving the forest reserve, and all other forest reserves in the State of California.

A communication was read from Dr. F. M. Palmer, saying that he had obtained from John L. O'Brien county several ancient Indian baskets, which he would present to the chamber, and suggesting that if the fact was made public that articles of this sort would receive proper care, it would result in considerable additions to the chamber's collection of antiquities. The matter was referred to a special committee, consisting of Directors Slauson and Klokke.

Dr. Davidson called attention to the fact that the Climatological Association would meet in Galveston some time this month, and suggested that the organization be asked to hold its next session in Los Angeles. The matter was referred to him with power to act.

NEW EXHIBITS.

A pyramid of jars and crocks and other pieces of stoneware towers aloft in the north gallery of the Chamber of Commerce. This pyramid was built by the Los Angeles Stoneware Company. It is the first exhibit of much size that has been installed for some time. First comes a row of fire bricks and huge jars, then a collection of crocks and jars; next a row of churns; and with flower-pots, large and small, and big red ollas scattered in promiscuously. The original inhabitants of California are well represented in the pottery-making, and judging from the display, the potter's lore has not died out.

W. C. Walker of Santa Ana displays a block of onyx from a ledge in Orange county. Two adjoining sides are polished, showing the wonderful play of color and beauty of the veining. The other sides are left in the rough.

Some organs were received yesterday from the Gen. Best ranch in Kern county. They are very large and imposing. The biggest of the lot weighs one and one-half pounds. These organs were grown on a ranch forty miles back from the railroad. The ranch shipped away eight carloads of the fruit. H. S. Fisher contributed a box of navel oranges raised in North Pasadena.

A Runaway Collision.

At 2 p.m. yesterday, C. C. Frempton was badly injured about the head by a collision with a runaway team, and taken to the Police Station Hospital for treatment. While he was driving home on Alpine street, a heavy team of runaway horses came tearing down the street. He attempted to turn his buggy out of the way, but was too late, the heavy wagon striking his vehicle and smashing it, at the same time throwing him out onto the sidewalk, bruising him severely and cutting a big gash on his head. He was removed to his home later in the afternoon.

A Tamale Wagon Burned.

At 6 p.m. yesterday one of Pemberton's tamale wagons went up in smoke, at the corner of Second and Main streets. A lamp which had been recently filled with oil burst, and the tamale vender had barely time to skip out before the blazing stove was ablaze. The street was brilliantly lighted for about ten minutes by the blazing wagon, and every newsboy within a mile was eating hot chicken tamales free of charge.

BADLY BURNED.

Narrow Escape of Mrs. R. Hawkins from Death.

Mrs. Robert Hawkins was badly burned by the upsetting of a coaloil lamp about 6 o'clock yesterday evening. The accident occurred in the rear of a small store on Fifth street, near Wall, where R. Hawkins and wife and their son and wife live.

Mrs. Hawkins, Sr., lighted a lamp and went into the kitchen to prepare the evening meal. She is somewhat near-sighted, and in attempting to set the lamp on a shelf she did not reach far enough. The consequence was that when she let go of the lamp it fell on a table and was broken to pieces. The oil which splashed on her clothes was ignited, and in an instant her clothing was ablaze.

The unfortunate woman, screaming from fright and pain, rushed out into the back yard. The only other person about the premises was her son, J. R. Hawkins, who was in the store in front of the living rooms. He ran to his mother's assistance when he heard her shrieks, and at great peril to himself, threw his arms around her and tried to smother the flames with his hands and body. Finding this impossible, he picked up an old rug, with which he completed the task. Meanwhile, neighbors had rushed in and extinguished the fire in the kitchen with a garden hose.

Mrs. Hawkins was frightfully burned about the arms, face and body. Dr. B. C. Webb, who was hastily summoned, dressed her injuries, and said with good care she would recover. J. R. Hawkins was badly burned about the hands in his efforts to save his mother's life. Mr. Hawkins, Sr., and Mrs. Hawkins, Jr., were not at home when the accident took place.
